

Ring Tweak Assistant

When the judge arrives on site at 8am each morning of the trial, they must tweak the build that was done the night before. This may involve moving equipment that cannot be moved by one person. Your job is to help them, and find others to help if needed.

The judge will not know where to find things, or where to find people they might need to talk to. You can help with this. You don't need to know where everything is, just make sure you know the Trials Secretary and Trials Director - either one of them will be able to find what, or who, you need.

Prior to the start of events, there may be dogs that the judge needs to measure. Help them in whatever manner they need with this. They are generally skilled at relaxing dogs and keeping them still for measurement, so assist only by doing what they ask you to do.

There may be multiple judges at a trial, and each one must have a tweak assistant.

When the judge arrives on site, the Trials Secretary will make sure you are introduced to the judge, if you do not already know them.
